Congregational Development Together For Tomorrow Grant Application

Introduction:
In 2005, the New England Conference of the United Methodist Church initiated the Together for Tomorrow capital funds program that included a 22.5% share for Congregational Development. The Together for Tomorrow case statement reads:

United Methodists are called to make disciples for Jesus Christ. We do this by providing for new congregations and by supporting existing congregations that show emerging opportunities and desire for growth. It is not just our tradition to give witness to social holiness, but to spread it across our communities. When fully capitalized with $2,000,000, this endowment will generate approximately $50,000 - $100,000 annually for allocation to new initiatives in existing congregations and new church starts.

New Initiatives: At many churches, people are hearing the call to exciting new initiatives. Our creative, locally directed programs will help to revitalize existing congregations while at the same time respond to people in great spiritual need.

New Church Starts: Many congregations in New England exist today because United Methodists rallied to support emerging opportunities to grow churches. It is our collective responsibility to foster growth in Christ. And it is urgent that we embrace our heritage of spreading the Gospel of Jesus Christ anew and let it move us into the future. Superintendents are discovering places where United Methodist churches could be birthed. Typically, the needs are first for study and consultation, then staffing by persons with special training, and then for facilities for new congregations. Expenditures for new congregations may include staff for preliminary exploration (gatherings, Bible Studies, etc.) and for the first years of salary for church planting.

Purpose:
The purpose of the Together for Tomorrow Grant program is threefold:

1. Promote development of local church, cluster, district, or regional ministry initiatives for new United Methodist congregations in New England.
2. Promote development of new local church, cluster, district, or regional ministry initiatives of existing United Methodist congregations in New England.
3. Evaluate funding proposals and grant recipient ministries for the purpose of continued development of this annual grant making protocol and process that encourages new initiatives, supports current ministries in the New England Conference and complements other congregational development funding options.
